DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

1. Claims 1, 5-7, 11-12, 15-17, 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by US 7,319,480 by Akiyama et al.

2. Regarding claim 1, a video playback device comprising the following configuration:

- a video storage means for storing a plurality of videos (col. 4 lines 25-28);
- a thumbnail image generation means for generating thumbnail images from videos and for generating thumbnail images (col. 3 lines 60-65);
- a thumbnail image storage means for storing thumbnail images of videos and correspondingly appending plural sets generated in thumbnail image generation means (col. 4 lines 16-49);
- a display means for performing a list display of thumbnail images for plural sets stored in thumbnail image storage means (fig. 1, col. 2 lines 25-39);
- a selection means for selecting any one of a plurality of thumbnail images displayed in display means (col. 7 lines 24-40); and

- a playback means for reducing the size of a particular thumbnail image and replaying a video corresponding to a thumbnail image selected in selection means in thumbnail image display position (fig. 5, col. 7 lines 24-40).
3. Regarding claim 5, the video playback device further comprises:
- an assignment means for assigning special effects in optional frames of video stored in video storage means (fig. 5, col. 4 lines 16-28, col. 7 lines 8-23); and
 - thumbnail image generation means generates a thumbnail image from a frame in which special effects are not assigned by assignment means (fig. 5, col. 4 lines 16-28, col. 7 lines 8-23).
4. Regarding claim 6, the video playback device wherein thumbnail image generation means generates a thumbnail image from a frame of any lead frame, intermediate frame or final frame of a video stored in video storage means (col. 4 lines 16-28).
5. Regarding claim 7, the video playback device further comprises:
- an imaging means (fig. 1 (300)); and
 - video storage means stores video imaged by imaging means (fig. 1 (360B)).

6. Regarding claim 11, a video playback method comprising the following steps:
- a thumbnail image generation step for generating thumbnail images from a plurality of videos and for generating thumbnail images stored in a first memory (col. 3 lines 59-65, col. 4 lines 4-35, col. 7 lines 8-13, storage medium is divided into different part, i.e., hard drive. Therefore, we can say a first memory is where thumbnail images are stored);
 - a thumbnail image storage step for storing thumbnail images of videos and correspondingly appending plural sets generated in thumbnail image generation step in a second memory (col. 4 lines 16-49);
 - a display step for performing a list display of thumbnail images for plural sets stored in said thumbnail image storage step (fig. 1, col. 2 lines 25-39);
 - a selection step for selecting any one of a plurality of thumbnail images displayed in said display step (col. 7 lines 24-40); and
 - a playback step for reducing the size of a particular thumbnail image and replaying a video corresponding to said selection step in said thumbnail image display position (fig. 5, col. 7 lines 24-40).
7. Regarding claim 12, the video playback method further includes:
- a storage and management step for correspondingly appending and managing storage addresses of videos in first memory (col. 3 lines 48-65, col. 4 lines 16-35); and

- second memory stores only thumbnail images generated by thumbnail image means and storage addresses of thumbnail images in second memory (col. 3 lines 48-65, col. 4 lines 16-35).

8. Claim 15 is rejected for the same reason as discussed in the corresponding claim 5 above.
9. Claim 16 is rejected for the same reason as discussed in the corresponding claim 6 above.
10. Claim 17 is rejected for the same reason as discussed in the corresponding claim 7 above.
11. Claim 20 is rejected for the same reason as discussed in the corresponding claim 11 above.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

12. Claims 2-4, 9-10, 13, 14, 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US 7,319,480 by Akiyama et al.

13. Regarding claim 2, Akiyama discloses the video playback device wherein thumbnail image storage means is characterized by:

- a means for storing thumbnail images generated by thumbnail image generation means (col. 4 lines 16-35);
- means for storing stored addresses (col. 4 lines 16-35); and
- a storage and management means for correspondingly appending and managing storage addresses of videos (col. 4 lines 16-35)

Akiyama fails to disclose storing only thumbnail images generated by thumbnail images generation

It is noted that the use of storing only thumbnail images is old and well-known in the recording art. Therefore, official notice is taken. Moreover, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have a well-known storing only thumbnail images for the advantage of providing more flexibility to a viewer to have a storage medium to store only thumbnail images for viewing only thumbnail images.

14. Regarding claim 3, Akiyama discloses the video playback device wherein storage and management means is characterized by correspondingly appending and storing the playback time acquired from videos (col. 4 lines 16-29).

Akiyama fails to disclose playback time duration acquired from videos

It is noted that the use of playback time duration is old and well-known in the recording art. Therefore, official notice is taken. Moreover, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have a well-known playback time duration for the viewer to have more flexibility while watching the thumbnails.

15. Regarding claim 4, Akiyama discloses the video playback device wherein storage and management means is characterized by correspondingly appending and storing the acquisition method source acquired from videos (col. 4 lines 16-28).

16. Regarding claim 9, Akiyama discloses the video playback device but fails to disclose the video playback device further comprises:

- an input means for acquiring video externally; and
- video storage means stores video inputted by input means.

It is noted that the use of external input and storing video inputted by external input is old and well-known in the recording art. Therefore, official notice is taken. Moreover, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have a well-known external input and storing video inputted by external input for the viewer to have more videos to watch from external input.

17. Regarding claim 10, Akiyama discloses the video playback device but fails to disclose the video playback device wherein stores video acquired via broadcasting medium.

It is noted that the use of video acquire via broadcasting medium is old and well-known in the recording art. Therefore, official notice is taken. Moreover, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have a well-known video acquire via broadcasting medium for the viewer to have more videos to watch from broadcasting medium.

18. Claim 13 is rejected for the same reason as discussed in the corresponding claim 3 above.

19. Claim 14 is rejected for the same reason as discussed in the corresponding claim 4 above.

20. Claim 19 is rejected for the same reason as discussed in the corresponding claim 9 above.

21. Claims 8, 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US 7,319,480 by Akiyama et al. in view of US 6,731,952 by Schaeffer et al.

22. Regarding claim 8, Akiyama discloses the video playback device but fails to disclose:

- a wireless communication means; and
- video storage means stores video received by wireless communication means.

Schaeffer discloses

- a wireless communication means (col. 6 lines 29-43); and
- video storage means stores video received by wireless communication means (col. 6 lines 29-43).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to modify the proposed combination of Akiyama's system to include a wireless communication, as taught by Schaeffer, for the advantage of providing more flexibility to a user to have wireless communication to communicate with other viewer.

23. Claim 18 is rejected for the same reason as discussed in the corresponding claim 8 above.
